Tumpeng

Tumpeng is a cone-shape rice like mountain surrounded by assorted Indonesian dishes. The philosophy of tumpeng refers to the geographical condition in Java Island, Indonesia as a fertile island with many mountains and volcanos.

Tumpeng was served as a symbol of thanks giving for the harvest or any other blessings given by God.

There are many kinds of tumpeng. Yellow tumpeng is intended for any happy celebrations such as celebration of birth or wedding. The color of yellow itself represents wealth, gold, abundance and high moral.

Patra SK Employees Gathering

This was the first gathering of Patra SK which had cheerful and fun concept. Everyone in company, without any exceptions, enjoyed this event as one big family.

The gathering itself was conducted at Sari Ater Hotel and Resort in Subang, West Java on 23 and 24 November 2012.

Located in highland with cool air, Sari Ater is surrounded by great scenery of tea garden and mountain. What a good place to live up the cheerful and fun gathering.

On its first day, we prepared ourselves trying to win the paintball war game right after the Sari Ater committee divided us into two groups. The excitement continued with rafting in a warm sulfuric river. This was a wonderful and unforgettable experience.

The next day was the great day for tea walking. The guide led all Patra SK people to walk around tea garden and ended up in a tea factory in which we learnt the process of making tea. After taking some rest, we came back to hotel and continued our fun activity with flying fox. Those were two great days for recharging the spirit for all employees and bringing togetherness between Patra SK people.
